SENSITIVE

Dear General Counsel:

I am writing today to file a complaint because I believe the 10th District Republican Congressional Committee, in Virginia of which I am a member, has under reported a number of disbursements on some recently filed amended returns for the calendar year of 2011.

The filing of the recent amended reports on committee number C00005462 were in response to repeated requests by a number of 10th District Committee members for copies of the bank statements, from the Chairman, Howie Lind and Treasurer, Shak Hill. The committee members acted, upon realizing the treasurer had only filed receipts on several of the reports in 2011 and had not filed any disbursements. The actual bank statements were not provided to us, however, in response to an earlier request the treasurer did send the attached spread sheets (20 pages) which supposedly reflected what was on the bank statements.

I have reviewed the months of January -December 2011 and have annotated with a check mark those disbursements paid by either check or debit card that are included in the federal amended reports filed through March 31, 2012. I found a total of 80 disbursements that were filed and 91 that were not reported. Not having the actual bank statements, of course, makes this just a best guess.

Additionally, in reviewing the reports very closely the committee members realized that the change in treasurer had not been reported properly in May of 2010 and again in July of 2011 when the current treasurer Shak Hill took office, and that the bank account and address of the committee had not been changed in a timely manner. These deficiencies have since been corrected.

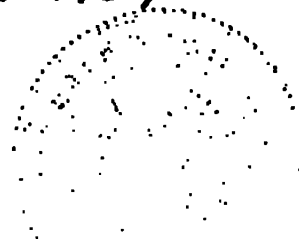

I am self-reporting, what I believe to be under reported disbursements. It is my hope that, in so doing the FEC will look kindly on the 10th District Republican Committee and waive or be lenient as regards to any fines that might be levied.

Sincerely,

Thomas J. Whitmore
Prince William County
10th District Republican Committee
